YOUR ULTIMATE LINE OF DEFENSE

Every day your body is under attack. From bacteria and parasites to toxins and viruses, these foreign invaders are biologically programmed to cause harm. A protective internal army, the cells, tissues, and organs that make up your immune system are constantly scanning, guarding, attacking, and recording these invasions. This protection system works constantly to keep you safe and healthy, most times without you even noticing.

Supporting your most important line of defense with SHIELD helps to fortify your immune system's strength, effectiveness, and response time.

RECOVER + STRENGTHEN

ADVANCED IMMUNE SUPPORT

The immune system responds very well to nutritional support and herbal stimulation. SHIELD's 18 carefully curated botanical ingredients + CBG provide a wide-range of immune-supportive benefits that help to protect you.

- Supports and stimulates optimal immune function
- Minimizes stress that impairs immune health and its response system
- Promotes white cell production
- Supports faster recovery during declined health
- Helps balance endocannabinoid system function

CANNABIGEROL

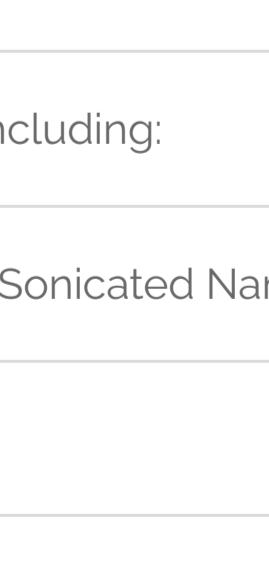

THE PROTECTIVE POWER OF CBG

As effective as your immune system is at guarding and protecting your body and mind, it needs the proper support to do its job at a consistently high level. CBG directly activates your endocannabinoid system's (ECS) CB2 receptors that are located primarily in the immune system. This ECS activation helps create a stable and balanced environment for your immune system to thrive and supports its role of guarding your health and well-being.

Research has begun to conclude that CBG—known as the mother of cannabinoids—boasts neuroprotective properties that help restore and sustain nervous system health. And with antibacterial, antifungal, antiseptic, and antimicrobial properties, CBG also helps balance and improve gut health and supports optimal immune cell function.

Additionally, CBG boosts anandamide levels—the endocannabinoid compound that promotes an increase of dopamine levels. This boost helps to brighten mood, appetite, and sleep cycles.

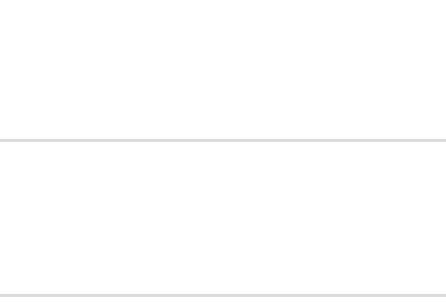

18 ESSENTIAL TIME-TESTED BOTANICALS

SHIELD's spectrum of adaptogenic herbs helps invigorate and safeguard the dual branches and complex networks that make up your immune system. From maximizing gut health and cellular integrity to optimizing immune response time and neutralizing threats, each herbal component in SHIELD helps you reap the wellness benefits of a well-maintained immune system.

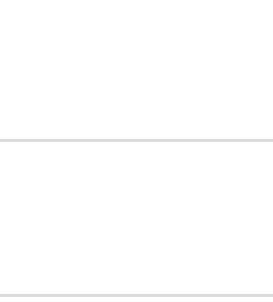

Sourced from the cleanest botanical ingredients, these nutrient-rich herbal adaptogens work in unison to minimize daily stress so your immune system can perform at its absolute best by night and day.

LINALOOL
TERPENE

Found predominantly in lavender and cannabis, linalool is a natural relaxant with a very gentle aromatic scent. It has beneficial balancing properties that support respiratory health and helps promote calm and relaxation.

NEROLIDOL
TERPENE

Carrying a woody and fruity scent reminiscent of tree bark, Nerolidol is found extensively in ginger, orange flower, and jasmine and hemp. It holds anti-inflammatory, antioxidant, antifungal, antibacterial properties that all help the immune system, and is known for its light relaxant effect.

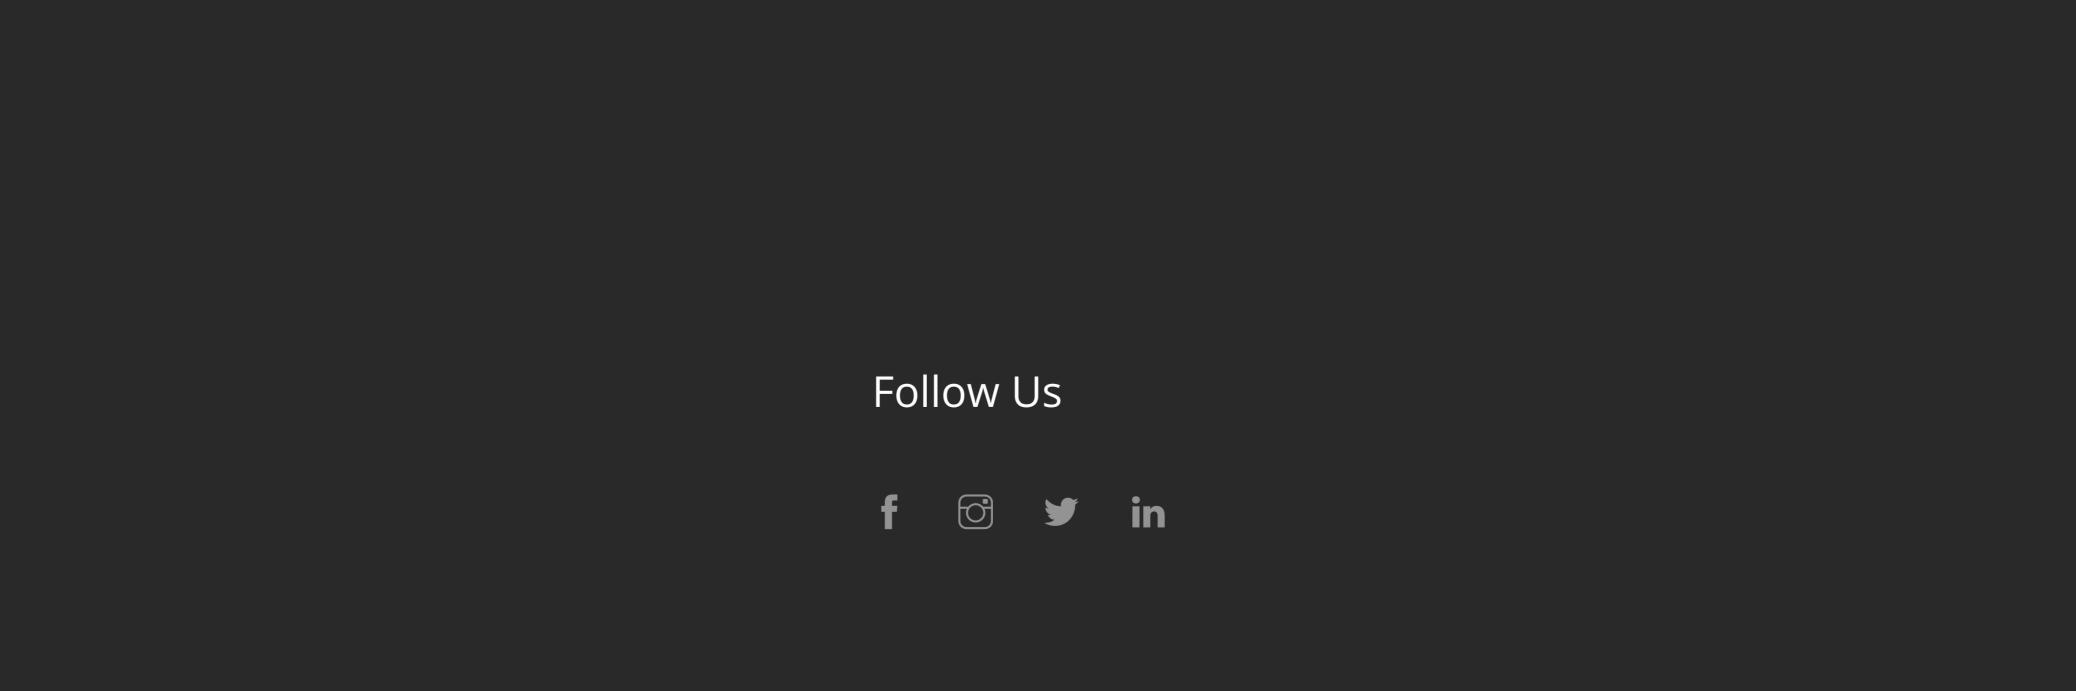

GERANIOL
TERPENE

Geraniol is present in many sweet-smelling plants and flowers, like roses, lemongrass, citronella, coriander, peaches, blueberries, and carrots. This primary terpene has been studied for its immunomodulatory effect, helping to modify an ideal immune response, and contains properties that limit physical distress.

ECS & IMMUNE SYSTEM ACTIVATION

Like the immune system that weaves and connects throughout your entire body your endocannabinoid system (ECS) is a complex signaling network that communicates with your brain, glands, organs, tissues, and cells. Made up of receptors (CB1 & CB2), cannabinoids, and enzymes, the ECS' primary role is to balance and support the function of other body systems—most notably your immune system.

GUARD YOUR BODY

A formula that combines premium-quality hemp cannabinoids, terpenes, and time-tested botanical extracts, SHIELD has been reviewed and approved by professional herbalists with expertise in traditional therapeutics and phytochemistry for its immune-support effectiveness.

Suggested Use: For optimal immune system maintenance, take 1mL daily. During days of body imbalance, take 0.5mL every 3 hours. Do not exceed 2mL in a 24-hour period. Shake well before each use.
